

NOTE AB Chooses Addovation for Strategic IFS Cloud Implementation, Paving the Way for Optimized Business Processes and Sustained Growth

Jönköping, Sweden, January 17th, 2024 – NOTE AB, a leading contract manufacturer in northern Europe, has strategically partnered with Addovation to optimize its business processes through the implementation of IFS Cloud. This pivotal move underscores NOTE AB's commitment to growth, entrusting Addovation with the task of seamlessly deploying IFS Cloud's comprehensive ERP and EAM solutions.

The decision to adopt IFS Cloud is a significant milestone for NOTE AB, signifying the replacement of multiple systems with a unified platform. This modern cloud solution is tailored to support the company's current growth trajectory, be it through organic expansion or strategic acquisitions.

Johannes Lind-Widestam, CEO of NOTE AB, emphasized the company's vision, stating, "In the midst of rapid expansion, digital transformation, and robust growth, we recognized the need for a partner who comprehends our core markets and can support us in our journey of expanding operations, hiring more talent, and acquiring new businesses. Addovation and IFS Cloud emerged as the ideal combination to meet our evolving needs."

With a proven track record of successful IFS Cloud implementations in Norway, Sweden, and Finland, Addovation brings invaluable experience to the table. The company will serve as a key resource as NOTE deploys a comprehensive suite of IFS Cloud modules, covering manufacturing, finance, projects, procurement, supply chain management, enterprise asset management (EAM), CRM, and human capital management (HCM). This ambitious deployment is set to cater to 1,200 users across NOTE's sites in 5 countries, commencing in early November 2023.

Joakim Hugosson, CEO at Addovation, expressed enthusiasm, saying, "We're really excited about bringing our knowledge and experience to the table, helping set up a platform that everyone can use and grow with in the long run. It's not just about immediate growth – we're aiming for something that will provide a sturdy foundation for ongoing success. We're committed to making a meaningful contribution to creating an environment that supports continuous development and achievement."
